Alice M. Greenwald, director of the National September 11 Memorial and Museum at the World Trade Center, who will offer her view of the highly charged planning process. As director, Ms. Greenwald will oversee the museum and its exhibits, which will preserve the historical artifacts associated with the events of 9/11 and present the intimate stories of loss, compassion and courage that have come to define that day. Prior to her current position, Ms. Greenwald was associate director for museum programs at the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum and part of the team that conceptualized its creation.

The cost for this event, which includes brunch, is $30 for members of both auxiliaries who have paid their 2007–2008 dues and $40 for nonmembers and walk-ins. Checks, made payable to the Women's Auxiliary, must be received by Monday, September 24. Questions? Call (212) 744-1400, ext. 235.

Hearing Loop installed in Main Sanctuary and Beth-El; switch aid to T-coil. Headsets or neck loops also available.

COLLEGE STUDENT OUTREACH

MANY EXCITING NEW INITIATIVES ARE taking place this year at Temple Emanu-El. With our new Department of Lifelong Learning and several new staff members, we have redefined ourselves to connecting with members at all stages of their lives. Through active outreach to our various constituents, we seek to provide the resources and support needed to live meaningful, joy-filled Jewish lives.

One of the main groups with which we'd like to connect is that of our college students. We want to make sure that college students feel like a part of their Emanu-El community and of their Jewish heritage. In order to achieve this goal, we are considering a number of initiatives that may include:

- Holiday care packages
- Updates from our clergy about Jewish life on campus
- Educational programs organized over school breaks
- Social events with other college students when in New York City
- Participation in the annual Salute to Israel Parade

- A Thanksgiving weekend Shabbat dinner or Havdalah get together
- A Congregation Emanu-El Birthright Israel trip

The possibilities are endless, and we welcome any ideas that you might have. To make sure that we include your college students in this exciting program, please complete the following form and return to Temple Emanu-El, One East 65th Street, NY, NY 10065 (Attn: Danny Mishkin, Coordinator of Youth and Young Adult Informal Learning). The requested information also may be sent by e-mail to youthgroups@emanuelnyc.org. Questions? Call (212) 744-1400, ext. 329.

THE CLERGY AND STAFF of Temple Emanu-El are pleased to announce the launch of our completely redesigned and reconstructed Temple Web site. It is chock full of important information, in addition to being clear and easy to navigate and beautiful to view. Our goal is to make the site an indispensable part of your Emanu-El membership experience—becoming a resource, a learning tool and a medium for interactive communication.

Among the many features you will find on the Web site are:

- ▶ A user-friendly calendar of events that includes a reminder capability to alert you by e-mail about events you won't want to miss
- ▶ Special congregational activities, such as family projects for the High Holy Days and study guides for our "Emanu-El Reads" program
- ▶ Downloadable broadcasts of Sabbath and holiday services

Web IDs and passwords have been assigned and mailed to each adult congregant and family members between the ages of 13 and 25. You will need this confidential information in order to log on and view members-only material on the site. Call the Temple Office at (212) 744-1400, ext. 210 if you don't receive your log-in information by Monday, September 10.
