UPCOMING EVENTS

WHO WILL SAY KADDISH?

Tuesday, January 22 6 P.M.

Some say there are no Jews left in Poland today. Come meet photo-journalist Gary Gelb as he dispels this myth and provides insight into the contemporary Jewish community in Poland. In 1995, Mr. Gelb traveled with a writer to document what was left of Poland's Jewish community. Together they published

Who Will Say Kaddish? A Search for Jewish Identity in Contemporary Poland (Syracuse University Press, 2001).

At this special event sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary, Mr. Gelb comes to Temple Emanu-El where he will narrate a slide show of his images and share stories about the people he met on his journey, including a Jewish priest (who never knew he had been born a Jew) and the first bat mitzvah in Poland. A book signing will follow.

Cost is $10 for Women's Auxiliary members, $15 for nonmembers. Light refreshments will be served. Checks, made payable to the Women's Auxiliary, must be received by Thursday, January 17. Questions? Call (212) 744-1400, ext. 235.

MLK SERVICE DAY

Senior Youth Group members will be awarded community service hours for participation in this program honoring the legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Call (212) 744-1400, ext. 329.

The following was organized as part of our Emanu-El Reads program, focusing on The Sabbath by Abraham Joshua Heschel. For more information, visit the Temple Web site and click "Learning: Adult Education."

ARE JEWS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE WHOLE WORLD?
Wednesday, January 23 6:30 P.M.
Leventritt Room (One East 65th)

Heschel's The Sabbath struggles to find a balance between Jewish ritual demands and moral/social responsibility.

Rabbi Neil Gillman will examine the implied tensions in the book and how they inform the contours of Jewish responsibility to the Jewish community on the one hand and to the world on the other.

Lecturer:
Rabbi Neil Gillman

RABBI GILLMAN is the scholar-in-residence at the Skirball Center for Adult Jewish Learning and a professor of Jewish philosophy at the Jewish Theological Seminary. A world-renowned teacher and thinker, Dr. Gillman has written several seminal books on Jewish theology, including Sacred Fragments: Recovering Theology for the Modern Jew.

SHABBAT SHIRA: SABBATH OF SONG

By Cantor Lori Corrsin

MMUSIC, ESPECIALLY SONG, touches the soul in a way that is difficult to express with words. Leonard Bernstein best described it like this: "Music can name the unnameable and communicate the unknowable." It is for this reason that we try to communicate with God through song; there is no other way as effective, as the text alone often can feel ineffectual. In fact, our tradition teaches that "One who sings prays twice." (Chasidic saying)

In this coming week we have the wonderful opportunity to pray and celebrate the Sabbath with very special music, for it is in the Torah portion B'shalach (Exodus 15:1-18) that we sing Shirat Hayam, the Song of the Sea. According to the text, the Israelites, led by Moses and then Miriam, break out into song on the shores of the sea. Song is the only way they can express their tremendous joy, relief and awe. In addition, this week's service will include a Sermon in Song to which I will be accompanied by our organists,

Pedro d'Aquino and Scott Warren, and the Temple Emanu-El Choir on the bimah. The theme for this Sermon in Song is "Yearning for Jerusalem," which was selected in celebration of the 60th anniversary of the State of Israel. We will feature song settings from Salamone Rossi, Louis Lewandowski, Naomi Shemer and others that celebrate the beauty and glory of Jerusalem. Please join us at 10:30 A.M. in the Fifth Avenue Sanctuary.

(See Cantor Corrsin's full commentary about B'shalach on the Temple Emanu-El Web site: www.emanuelnyc.org.)
